NUMB. 3027

MONDAY NOVEMBER 14 1743.

Since our last arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Petersburgh, October 25.

HER Imperial Majesty is expected in this Capital To-morrow. His Swedish Majesty having made a Present to the Russian Plenipotentiaries at Abo of 3000 Ducats each, the Czarina has done the same to the Plenipotentiaries of Sweden; and the like Civilities have passed with respect to the Prisoners in both Countries. It is more and more apparent, that the Armament in Denmark has occasion'd the new Turn that Affairs are taking here; and, in all probability, if that Prince continues his Armaments, it may produce an extraordinary Alliance for preserving the Peace of the North, which may have very unexpected Consequences. Admiral Count de Gallowin is dangerously ill at Nerva.

Stockholm, October 29. The Pains taken by the Successor, in order to make himself Master of our Tongue, the good Grace with which he repeated the Oath appointed by the Dyet, and his Humanity and Benevolence on all Occasions, gain him the Hearts of the whole Nation. The Danes continue still encamped in Norway, notwithstanding the Severity of the Weather; which is the more unaccountable, since, with the Assistance of Russia, we shall have in the Spring 60,000 regular Troops in the Field.

P. S. The French Minister has just now received, by an Express, the News of M. de la Chetardie's being set out from Hamburgh for Copenhagen, from whence he is to come hither, in order to negotiate a Scheme of the utmost Consequence.

Copenhagen, November 5. Some of the M. de la Chetardie's Domesticicks are already arrived, and his Excellency is expected here To-morrow; and is said to be charged with a Project for adjusting the Differences subsisting between us and Sweden. All the Ceremonies attending the Reception of the Princess Louisa of Great Britain, are settled; there are to be Rejoicings, Illuminations, and open House-keeping for three Days, and a prodigious splendid Dinner on the last Day at Court; and a Supper, Ball, &c. at Mr. Tittle's, the British Minister. Orders have been sent to the Forces in Norway to continue in the Field, and to encamp as near the Swedish Frontiers as possible, till they receive farther Instructions.

Pesaro, October 29. The Spanish Army are retiring with the utmost Diligence to Foligno, where they hope to be joined by the Neapolitans; in which Hope, if they should be deceived, they are in all probability lost. Prince Lobkowitz has deceived every Body's Expectation; he is the most silent General the World ever saw. He made Provision at Bologna of every Thing for the Winter, and then left it. He enter'd Rimini on the 25th, and this Morning his Hussars have taken Post at Cattolica. The Duke of Modena advis'd Count de Gages to wait for the Germans, and give them Battle. Such Councils, answer'd the Spanish General, become well enough a Prince stripp'd of his Dominions; but his Catholick Majesty's Affairs are not so desperate a Way as to require they should be follow'd.

Venna, November 2. The Marquis de Botta has in- directly justified himself here on the Subject of the Conspiracy in Russia; and besides the Refcript her Majesty has already sent in his Favour to her Ministers at Foreign Courts, a very strong Manifesto on this Subject is in the Press at present. Orders have been sent to Bavaria, for the States of that Electorate to raise 6000 Men, which are to be incorporated into our Troops in Italy; from whence we learn, that Prince Lobkowitz has precisely executed the Orders that were sent him, and is driving the Spaniards before him into the Kingdom of Naples.

Frankfort, November 10. The Imperial Court is more cheerful than usual; and, undoubtedly, something of the last Importance is on the Carpet. We are told, that a Grand Alliance is forming between the Emperor, the Czarina, their most Christian and most Catholick Majesties, the Kings of Sweden, Poland, and Prussia. On the Name-day the Emperor made a grand Promotion of several Officers, in which the Prince of Grimbargue, Ambassador in France, was made Field-Marshal, and the Saxe-Hildburghausen General of Artillery, and several other Persons of Rank promoted. At the same time shew a peculiar Mark of his Imperial Favour to the Duke of Hesse-Cassel, his Majesty has granted them the Honours and Prerogatives of an Electoral Family, the Title only excepted.

P. S. We have this Moment Advice from Italy, that the Spaniards are flying into Naples.

Spire, November 7. Our Chapter met on the 5th, in order to the Election of a Bishop, when the Elector of Trier had nine Votes out of fifteen; but as ten are necessary, the Election is adjourn'd to the 15th. All the Foreign Troops in our Neighbourhood preserve exceeding good Discipline, and we are very desirous of having the Allies again in our Territories in the Spring.

Vienna, November 16. Lord Carteret is expected here on Sunday or Monday. We talk more and more of a General Peace, and a Congress at Cologne, Aix la Chapelle, or Utrecht; but, most probably, at the last-mentioned Place. Lord Delawar, who went to make a Tour to Amsterdam, is returned hither. The Spanish Ambassador asserts, that his Royal Highness the Infant Don Philip did not lose one Piece of Cannon, or any Part of his Baggage, in his Retreat from Piedmont; but our last Letters from Piedmont confirm our former Accounts, with this additional Circumstance, that his Sardian Majesty had sent all the Plate, &c. belonging to the Infant, back again.

L O N D O N.

On Saturday last dy'd, Mr. THOMAS WARD, Banker, one of the Partners at the Three Squirrels in Fleetstreet, after a tedious and painful Illness, proceeding from an Inflammation of the Bladder.

As he had a ready Hand to assist, a clear Judgment, beyond most Men, to advise, and was bless'd with an open and friendly Heart, delighting to serve his numerous Friends and Acquaintance, it may be truly said, that the Death of Mr. WARD is more than a private or Family Loss.

For he often employ'd himself in making Peace, and terminating Differences; being as remarkably happy in an unaffected and unstudied Elocution, as he was for the Coolness of his Temper, the Cheerfulness of his Manners, and the Warmth of his Heart.

Nor were his eminent good Qualities the Effect of Constitution merely: Any more than his Wisdom might be said to be of This World only. He had Motives greatly superior to govern his Actions by: For he was as good a Christian by Choice, as he was naturally a Man of Prudence: Thinking it incumbent upon him constantly to attend the Publick Worship, as well as to perform his private Duties: Being thoroughly convinced of the Truth and Excellency of the Christian Religion. On this his firm Belief and regular Practice, he built his greatest Consolation in his Illness; and this enabled him, with Patience and Resignation as uncommon as edifying, to endure those excruciating Pains, which he knew must put an End to a Life less desirable to himself, than to every one who had the Happiness to be acquainted with him.

He has left a Widow, and one Daughter, married some Years ago, to Edward Stanley of the Middle-Temple, Esq; Brother to Sir James Stanley of Alderley, in Cheshire, Baronet.

Last Thursday a large Body of Recruits were put into a Lighter at the Savoy, in order to be shipped for the Garrisons of Gibraltar and Portmahone.

The Directors of the East India Company have appointed Friday, the 9th of December, for the Sale of the Company's Salt Petre; and that in private Trade, Wednesday the 14th for the Drugs, Carmenia, Cotton Yarn, Arrack, Redwood, and Cowries; and Thursday the 22d for the Tea.

The Company's Sale of Bengal Piece Goods commences the 29th Inst.

Next Monday a Court of Admiralty will be held for the Trial of the Nostra Senora, &c. taken by the Worcester Man of War, and carried into Port Royal in Jamaica.

The Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor has presented the Rev. Mr. Samuel Brook to the Rectory of Gaimston, in the County of Nottingham.

Last Saturday died, at his House in Lambeth Marsh, Mr. Thomas Kingman, one of the greatest Flow'rists in England.

The same Day Mr. Hyle, one of his Majesty's Messengers, arriv'd at the Duke of Newcastle's Office at Whitehall, from Hanover, and brought an Account, that his Majesty set out from thence on Tuesday last.

Whitehall, November 12. The King has been pleas'd to grant unto Stephen Penny, Esq; the Office of Comptroller of the Duties of Excise in Scotland.

The Inhabitants of Rochester, Chatham, Strood, and Brompton, having humbly represented unto their excellencies the Lords Justices, That within the said Places several Houses have lately been broke open in the Night-time, and considerable Quantities of Plate, and other Things of Value, stolen out of the same, and that notwithstanding the utmost Endeavours for the apprehending and bringing to Justice the Persons concerned in the said Burglaries, yet the same have hitherto proved ineffectual: In order therefore to the discovering and bringing to Punishment the Persons who have been guilty of the said Crimes, their Excellencies the Lords Justices have been pleas'd to promise his Majesty's most gracious Pardon to any Person concern'd therein, who shall discover his Accomplice or Accomplices, so as they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

And as a further Encouragement for such Discovery, the Sum of Fifty Pounds (contributed by the Inhabitants of the said City and Places for that Purpose) will be paid, within one Month after such Conviction.

Thomas Skinner of Little Peckham, having been on the 17th of October last arrested upon a Capias by John Rugg, Supervisor of Rochester; and the said Rugg, with two other Persons his Assistants, being carrying the said Skinners to Maidstone, were assulted at Barming, about two or three Miles from Maidstone, by Five Horsemen, arm'd with Blunderbusses and Pistols, who rescued the said Skinner: The Commissioners of Excise, have promised that if any Person, although an Accomplice, will make Discovery of the Persons concerned in the said Assult, so as they, or any of them, may be brought to Justice, such Person shall, upon the apprehending and convicting of any of the Offenders, receive the Reward of Two Hundred Pounds.
